

Multimostra

Press release

To organize contemporary art exhibitions in uninstitutional places is not a newness but a standard, without quoting ordinary definitions like the “non luoghi” one, which are places like that of this exhibition. These places are now animated and contextualized by artists’ artworks. This exhibition or whole of exhibitions, organized in an only place, would invade the new cinema “Cineflash” in all its places of way: the entrance, the hall, the passage to the movie halls... But this is no comparison or crash between the two different expressive media which get in touch with each other. It’s important to understand that. So you can find, on the one hand the quick special effects and the economic power of the movie business, on the other hand the slow normal effects of the art, which aspire more and more to be different. It’s a run between the fruition of time and consolidated habits.

The young artists invited to take part of this exhibition, some almost famous and some are beginners, form a fine and comprehensive view of the art of Emilia Romagna. In fact, they come from Bologna, Castel San Pietro Terme, Imola, Faenza, Forlì and Rimini.

However, this exhibition is not a regional recognition of new artistic trends. Rather, it’s a meaning representation of the new generation. In the past exhibitions like that were entitled “De via aemilia”. The invited artists are becoming used to working in unusual spaces such as the railway station of Bologna. With reference to their practices of work, they use different medias like photographs, sculptures, videos, installations and performances.

By Mauro Manara

Artist list: Renato Bettinardi, Davide Bignami, Annalisa Cattani, Vanessa Chimera, Dragoni e Russo, Filippo Falaguasta, Marco Fantini, Patrizia Giambi, Mala Arti Visive, Alessandro Moreschini, Enrico Morsiani, Daniela Pedretti, Roberta Piccioni, Anteo Radovan, Giulia Ricci, Davide Rivalta, Fabrizio Rivola, Anna Rossi, Andrea Salvatori, Saura Sermenghi, Felice Serreli, Adriana Torregrossa, Davide Tranchina, Luca Trevisani, Anna Visani, Alice Volta, Italo Zuffi.

Multimostra

Multisala Cineflash, Via Emilia per Forlì 1403, Forlimpopoli (FC), Italy

December 21, 2002 – January 20, 2003

Every day from 7.00 p.m. to 2.00 a.m.

Opening: december the 20th at 9.00 p.m.

For further informations: tel.+39 0543 745971 email: pneuma@email.it